Lindeborg Wines was founded in 2019 by Thomas Lindeborg, who relocated from Sweden to Portugal after years of travelling through the country and developing a deep appreciation for its culture, people, and wines. The project is dedicated to sharing the authenticity and quality of Portuguese wines while preserving traditional winemaking practices.

Starting with a single winery, the group has grown to five estates across three regions, creating a diverse portfolio that reflects each area's unique terroir. By exclusively cultivating its own vineyards, Lindeborg Wines ensures full control from vine to bottle, maintaining quality and integrity throughout.

Pago los Balancines was founded back in 2006, on an extremely unique vineyard: The fresh sea winds from neighbouring Portugal seemed to arrive “gunned”, refreshing the vineyard, and the old Tempranillo vines seemed to have an equally Portuguese origin akin to Tinta Roriz, a qualitative clone of Castilian which gives specific characteristics and weight to Port wines.

The team at Pago los Balancines work with the desire to produce the best possible wine using organic practices that make respect (for the territory, for the varieties and for viticulture and oenology with a high component of tradition) the foundations of our progress.

At Altanza, our philosophy is built on three pillars: French oak ageing, estate-owned vineyards, and the Tempranillo grape. Our name reflects values of loyalty, commitment, and respect, which guide every step of our winemaking.

From vineyard management to the careful selection of French oak barrels, we aim to create elegant, balanced wines with a true expression of Rioja. Estate ownership ensures full control over grape quality and authenticity. Our Reserva represents our Alma Mater: refined, harmonious, and fruit-driven. With a young, dynamic team, Altanza blends tradition and innovation to craft modern wines focused on quality, character, and the needs of today's consumers.

With active viticulture dating to the 12th Century, the Priorat is as Old World as it gets. As the premier destination winery in the region, Perinet honours that history and infuses it with New World leadership and innovation. The Priorat is known for its singular terroir, called llicorella (yeek-uh-ray-uh). The name is derived from the Celtic word likka, meaning stone.

Led by the winemaker, Antoni Sanchez Ortiz, Perinet encompasses an innovative project sustained by four vineyards: Mas del Xes, Mas Vell, Pendants, and Bevissos. This landscape paints a comprehensive picture of the historic Priorat, a new balance of styles in winemaking. Perinet's authentic approach enables the production of wines consistently true to the climate and slate soil of the Priorat, offering an extensive stylistic palette that achieves remarkable quality and consistency.

Family-run organic winery located 15 km from Barcelona, established in 1991 on the historic Can Genís estate. The Pujol-Busquets family focuses on crafting “transparent” wines and Cavas that express the soil and each vintage, capturing both time and place. They have restored vineyards over 60 years old and cultivate native varieties like Pansa Blanca and Mataró, grown in sauló (sandy granitic soil) just 2 km from the Mediterranean.

In 2022, they were awarded the DO Cava “Integral Producer” status, certifying that all wines are produced entirely on the estate, ensuring full traceability and quality control from vineyard to bottle.
